

User Manual - Thesis Website

1 Login Page

The first page is the login page, with a link to register.

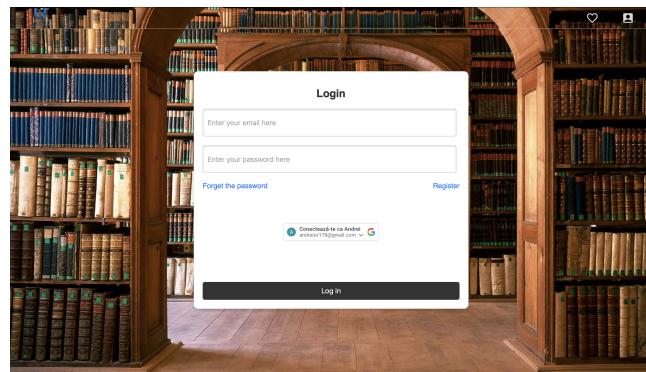

Figure 1: Login Page

2 Registration

Here, you can register using Gmail. For students, you will need to select the faculty program and the year of study. For professors, you only need to select the faculty.

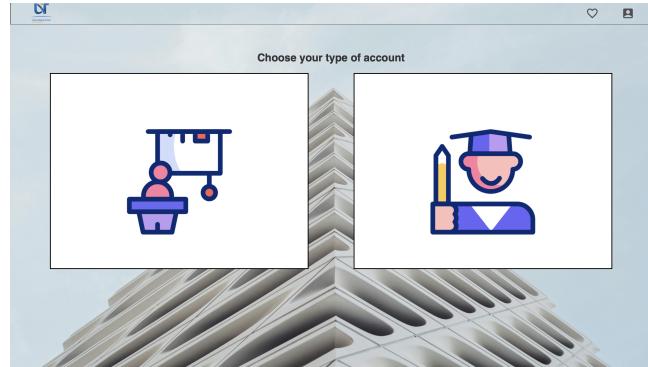

Figure 2: Registration Page

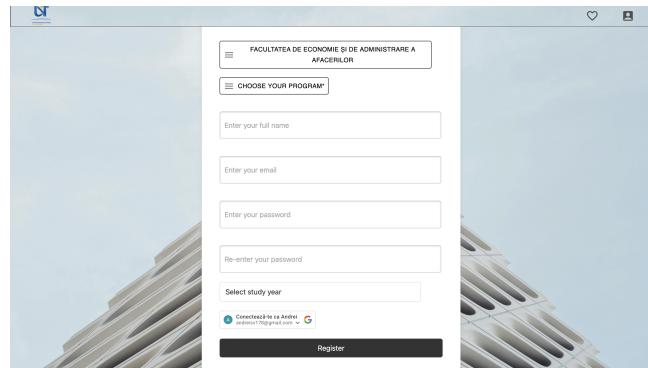

Figure 3: Registration Page

3 Email Confirmation

After registering, you will receive a confirmation code in your email, which you need to enter on the website to confirm your registration.

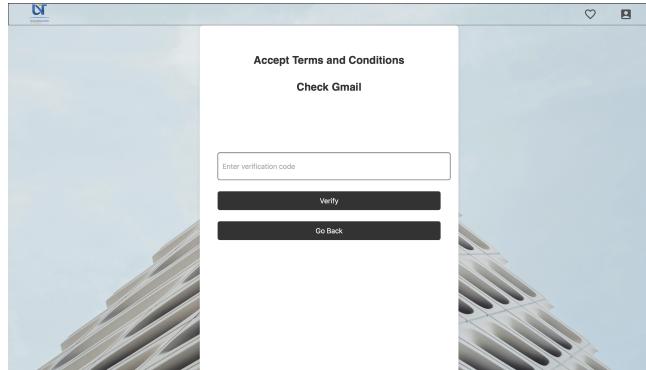

Figure 4: Confirmation Page

4 Theses Display for Students

On the “All” button, you can see all posted theses and click on the thesis cards to view more information. If you are a student, you will have an “Apply” button. When clicked, you may need to introduce a cover letter if required. If not, you can simply click “Submit” to apply.

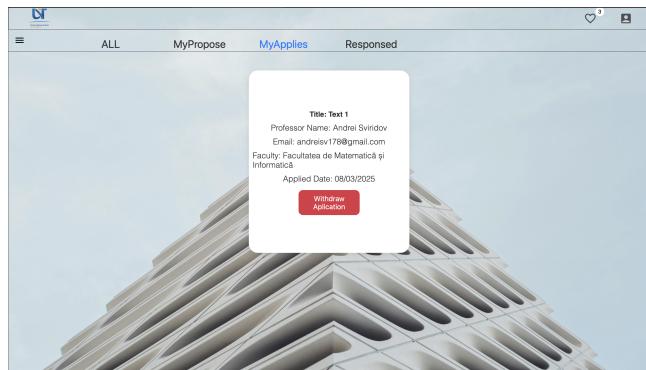

Figure 5: Theses Display for Students

5 Theses Display for Professors

If you are a professor, on the right bottom of the page, you will see a button to add a new thesis.

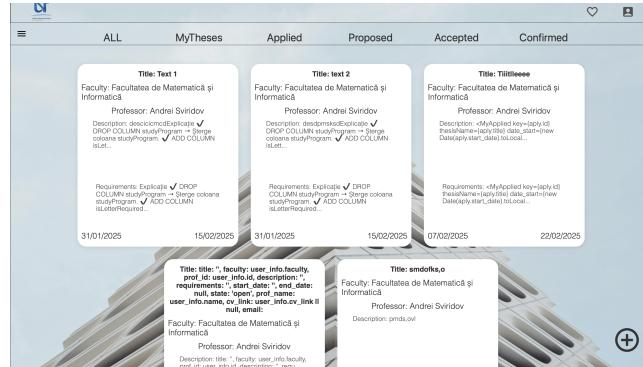

Figure 6: Theses Display for Students

5.1 My Theses

Here you will see your posted theses with options to suspend, modify, or delete them.

5.2 Applied

In this section, you will see all students who have applied to your theses. You can click on a student to view their cover letter and choose to accept or decline their application.

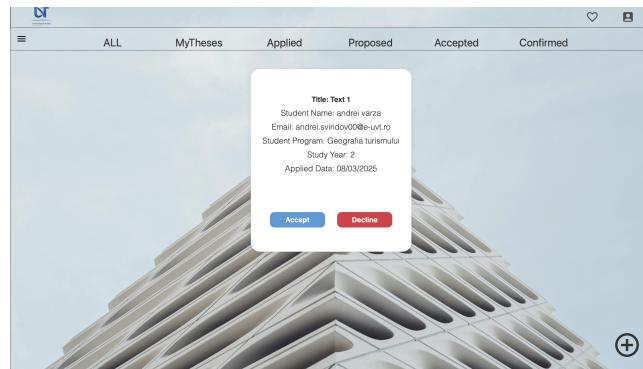

Figure 7: Theses Display for Students

5.3 Proposed

In this section, you will see all proposals that have come from students for thesis topics. You can click on any card to view the student's motivation and description.

5.4 Accepted

This button will display all students who have been accepted from an application or proposal. These students will be waiting for confirmation. Once confirmed, you can communicate directly with the student.

5.5 Confirmation

Here, you will see all the students and the theses you have accepted. When the student confirms, a chat will open between you and the student.

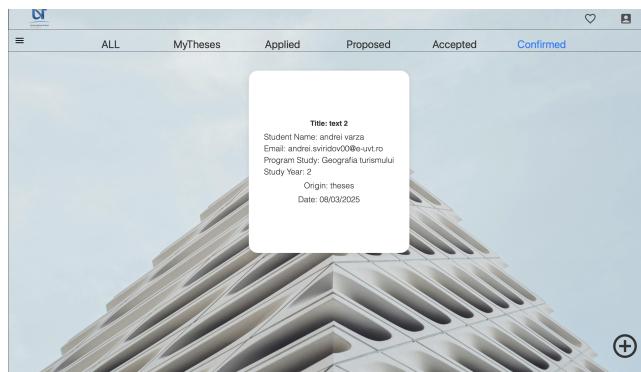

Figure 8: Theses Display for Students

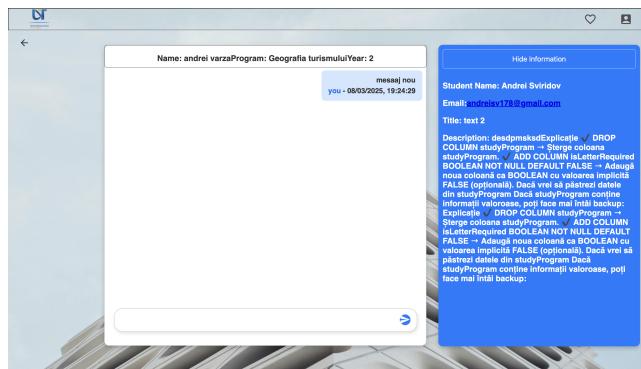

Figure 9: Theses Display for Students

6 Theses Display for Students - Buttons and Actions

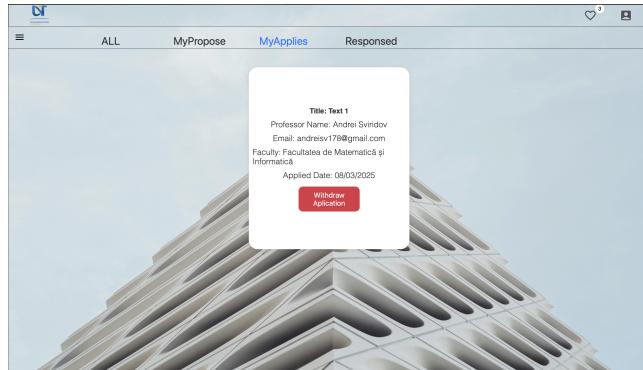

Figure 10: Theses Display for Students

6.1 My Proposals

In the “My Proposals” section, you will see all your proposed thesis topics. On the right bottom, there will be a button to add a new proposal.

6.2 My Applications

In the “My Applications” section, you will see all the applications you have made. These will remain here until you receive a response.

6.3 Responses

In the “Responses” section, you will see all accepted applications or proposals. You can confirm only one and click on the card to view additional information. After confirmation, a chat will be available between you and the professor.